

Fichtner IT Consulting acquires stake in Office365 and Microsoft specialist corner4

Fichtner IT Consulting GmbH ("FIT") joins the Austrian corner4 Information Technology GmbH ("corner4") as a partner. The 30% share underlines the goal of long-term and strategic cooperation. Customers are offered attractive solutions and a competent service based on Microsoft's digital workplace platform.

Together, FIT and corner4 offer products and services for the efficient design and execution of daily work processes in the rapidly growing Microsoft O365 environment. The innovative products and the specialized know-how of corner4 are ideally combined with the FIT range of Microsoft Dynamics CRM and Sharepoint that has been successful for years.

„Digitization and efficiency in the workplace will be the key issue in the next few years. The Microsoft platform is the clear leader here. The partnership with corner4 enables us to significantly expand our competencies and, based on corner4 products, to create efficient solutions with a sense of proportion for the individual needs of our customers, ”says Andreas Höfler, CEO of Fichtner IT Consulting.

„With Fichtner, we have gained a strong partner for customer-oriented projects and will be able to map the integration into existing ERP and CRM environments even better in the future. The regional focal points complement each other perfectly and enable us to continue the growth path of the past few years. ” Corner4's managing directors, Dieter Etmayr and Jürgen Sadleder, are certain.

Increasing productivity through an integrated IT platform is an essential success criterion for companies of all sizes and also a motivation factor for employees and applicants. With Office365, Teams and Sharepoint, Microsoft offers a highly integrated, cloud-enabled tool set for all matters: Office products, email, calendar, video conferences, CRM, document management, workflow automation and BI evaluations.

The innovative corner4 products close gaps and simplify daily work: document handling and comprehensive search (c4.Hub), easy integration of external customers (c4.TeamsPortal), IP telephony support (c4.Phone), AD / Sharepoint synchronization (c4.ProfileSync), Sharepoint application management (c4.Provisioning). In the SharePoint area, targeted templates enable a quick productive start and significantly improved user friendliness.

Fichtner IT Consulting is the IT competence center of the German Fichtner Group and has been successfully operating on the market for over 25 years. FIT advises on IT strategy and digitization and implements customer-oriented IT solutions. The Fichtner Group is a global engineering and consulting company with a focus on utilities and infrastructure with more than 1.500 employees worldwide.

corner4 Information Technology GmbH was founded in 2016 and offers companies, irrespective of their sector, comprehensive IT expertise at the current state of the art in the business areas of software solutions and cloud services. Office 365 and Microsoft solutions as the basis for consulting and implementation services up to individual programming services in the entire Microsoft stack (.NET, Office, SharePoint, Teams, Mobile / Xamarin, SQL Server) complete the offer.
